Records available at Subject's competent police precinct reveal that Subject was recognized as a political refugee. An additional inquiry conducted with the city office for political refugees disclosed that Subject was granted recognition as political refugee on September 18, 1950.

The criminal office of Subject's police precinct advanced the following additional information:

On May 1, 1951 a legal suit was instituted against Subject because of breaking of seals and custody as well as theft. As no clarification of this matter could be achieved the case was reversed into a private legal suit.

It was further mentioned that Subject is known to the criminal office of police precinct No. 293 as being a dubious person.

Submitted for guidance and further evaluation.
